Dear Sir,

RE: PAINT PROTECTION ON LIGHT AIRCRAFT

Your correspondence with the SACAA on the above matter is noted and the following is the resolution:

Based on the FAA letter supplied by you, dated 28th July 1993 and pertaining to this matter, together with the affirmations in your letter dated 29th May 2008, we would have no objection to the protective film being applied to specific surfaces of an aircraft with a MTOW of 5700 kilograms or less, subject to the following.

1. The FAA has since not changed their position on this matter since 1993.
2. The aerodynamics of the aircraft is not affected in any way.
3. The installation of the protective film is only to be applied by an AMO with the appropriate rating. The aircraft must be released to service pursuant to the installation.

Yours faithfully
